

TAPE SALAD ARCHIVE – Åsa Ståhl

Participate in the Berlin Tape Salad Archive!

I call them tape salads and I have been collecting them for quite some years now. I have found thrown away cassettes on lampposts, in ditches, in bushes and on the street, both at home and abroad. Others have also sent me their findings of magnetic tape. The Tape Salad Archive has grown out of an interest in providing a new life for voices that have been silenced and discarded.

You can contribute with any fragments of magnetic tape that you find in Berlin or elsewhere. Bring the tape salad(s) with you to Sparwasser HQ | Torstrasse 161 between May 6 – June 9, 2006 and have it come back to life.

I would really like to know what you were thinking when you did your findings. Please respond to the questions on the flip side

I would like to record your voice saying this as well...

Tack and be in touch!

Åsa Ståhl - asastahl@hotmail.com

Q: What is it that you have brought to the Tape Salad Archive?

A:

Q: Where did you find it?

A:

Q: What were you thinking when you found it?

A:

Q: Who do you think had this before?

A:

Q: Why do you think it is no longer with that person?

A:

Q: What do you think it sounds like?

A:

Please feel free to add other comments you wish to add about your tape salad...

Thank you for your participation!